Phoenix enjoys direct connection to the outdoors, with plenty of open space, parks and wetlands. Townhomes at Phoenix maximise on indoor-outdoor connection, with flexible,
open-plan living spaces
and large full-height windows.

A clever home doesn't need to be complicated. Townhomes at Phoenix are a balanced blend of charm and sophistication: fitted with all the essentials, with room for unique customisation through styling.

Shared spaces are bright and welcoming, with open concept kitchen and dining room perfect for entertaining friends and family. Homes are kept light and bright by design through neutral flooring and walls to main areas, creating a greater sense of space and balance. Natural materials, landscaped garden spaces, and floor-to-ceiling views out inspire a connectedness to nature.

Each two, three, or four-bedroom townhome is split across multiple levels and achieves a minimum 6-star NatHERs rating by design. By making use of considered, natural materials, and positioning each home within the masterplan to optimise sunlight and airflow, the indoor living experience is elevated while also reducing energy costs.

Phoenix Townhomes offer two standard material palettes. Spaces are kept purposefully minimal with a focus on quality materials, with room to customise through styling and upgrades to flooring and joinery.

A warm palette of stone and timber, the light scheme pairs premium engineered timber flooring throughout the main living areas, with warm, textural wool carpeting to bedroom spaces and elegant tiling to wet areas. The dark scheme features a cooler and higher contrast palette of ash greys, stone white, and deep timber tones.
